The Model Sermon.

It should be noted it is beauty will sleep
The soul will pass, the chap-lounger dead,
And the world will be the same as before,
I should be worn, a living charnel,
To meet the life and heart, and wear the soul;
No such a man, however, would be born,
And never the poor and pale entitled.
It should be manly, just, and valiant,
And have a spirit that will express itself,
Not stolid with fear, but bold with courage,
A warrior dead and whose bony brain,
Should be mixed with many an ardent prayer,
When God and man are mutually addressed,
God grants a blessing to truly blessed.

Miscellaneous.

Gulfport is called "The Oleander City,"
Colorado is said to contain 3,000 artesian wells.

Iowa has a Scandinavian population of 61,000.

The word "moonshiner" was originally moonshiner.

Chinese laundry is taxed $600 a year in St. Helena, M. T.

The trial of the Walkup poisoning case cost Kansas $6,000.

Coloado has 2,415 miles of railway, up to date $20,750,161.60.

They are going to pipe natural gas from Pittsburg to New York.

The total number of physicians in the world is estimated at 130,000.

Noticed in being moored to the main land by a submarine signal cable.

Mississippi is the only State whose law gives no Bar Association.

Gold Hill of New York, declines all invitations to receptions at which ladies are to be present.

In 1880 Dakota had 188,512 head of stock of all kinds. She now has 1,942,318 head.

It is said that there are twice as many professional actors in America as five years ago.

There are said to be 60,000 Waltham watches sold in England every year, and the Elgin Company are going in for a share of the trade.

Pittsburg claims more rich men in proportion to any other city than any other in the Union. Seventy residents agree to $180,000,000.

In a Western town a handsome young man was discovered to be a woman, and a local paper heads an item in reference to it "A Good Man Gone."

The Berlin "Vorwärts Zeitung" reminds its readers that two centuries ago the population of Berlin was 15,400, of whom over 5,000 were French, chiefly Hugoen exiles.

A girl of twenty years is the regularly appointed switch-tender at one of the rail road crossings in Milwaukee. She gets $40 a month, board, rent and fuel.

She gave the proper weapon of a Chairwoman in all meetings in this country, is unknown in Mexico. A little bell is used by the presiding officer to call to order.

A divorce granted is a sad thing, as it is evidence of wrong-doing on one side; but a divorce refused is still sadder, as it shows that there has been wickedness on both sides.

Inspectors that get into the ear may be dislodged by laying on the other side and pouring water into that ear. Not being able to get further than the tympanum, they will beat a hurried retreat.

A bath has been established in Albany, N. Y., where orthodox Jews bathe in the water prescribed in the Tabernacle. There are only two other baths of the kind in this country.

Maggie Mitchell (Mrs. H. T. Padlock) is of Scotch descent, but was born in Fulton street, New York City, and first, as a child, played in the old Bowery Theatre. She is fifty-three years of age.

In the zoological collection at the National Museum at Washington is an egg taken from a guano-bed, which egg is computed to be 1,000 years old. It is held by experts to be the staidest thing in the United States.

The St. Louis Mercantile Library—now in the thirty-eighth year of its active and most useful existence—contains 66,000 books, valued in $100,000, painting and drawing, $13,000; statuary, $10,000; collections of coins, $2,500—a sum total of $133,000.

The Indian names of Boston were recently described by Prof. Forsford. They are: Accomontics, meaning "Beyond the hill little cove;" Massessooce (Massachusetts), "Great hill mouth;" Musshawomuk, "Can place," and Shawmut, "Near the neck."

An ocean steamer lately took out to New Zealand a consignment of bumble bees. At present clover does not seed in that country, because there are no bumble bees to fertilize the flowers. The importers hope that the bumble bees will save him $50 a year in clover seed.

A colony of lepers is located at Tracadia, New Brunswick, in Gloucester county, on the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. There is another small settlement of lepers in the British provinces which is almost entirely unknown. It is situated in the western part of Cape Breton, near Lake Ainslie, the members being natives of the Highlands of Scotland.

M. Mantegazza, an Italian scientist, has written an article on wrinkles, which appears in the "Paris Gazette." He says the life history of a man can be written from his wrinkles. After giving the pros and cons of the different lines of the face, M. Mantegazza says the crow's feet mark the passing of the fortieth year, and are especially despised by ladies.

Chief Justice Waite wears his gown like the purple of a king. Judge Bradley has his gown buttoned close up to his neck, and his bright eye and nervous manner remind one of a little, old-faced boy with his hair wild. Justice Miller throws his robe about as though he despised it. Stanley Matthews handles the collar of his as though he was comfortable in it.

Lowell, Mass., has four chimneys over 200 foot high. The Merrimack Company has two chimneys 283 feet and 200 feet respectively. Glasgow, Scotland, has a 446 foot chimney, not for smoke, but for chemical fumes, and another chemical chimney of 350 feet; and Manchester, England, has one of 415 feet. The tallest made in the world is the Tounton and Suffolk Company has one 225 feet, and the Lawrence Company one 211 feet. The chimney of the Pacific Mills, Lawrence, is 227 feet. That of the navy yard, Boston, 239 feet.

At the Melbourne exhibition there was a complete dwelling-house made entirely of paper and furnished with the same material. There were paper walls, roofs, ceilings, flooring, joists and stairways. The house was built of paper, and paper doors and lamps. There were paper frying pans, and even the stove, in which bright fires were constantly burning daily, were of paper mache. When the builder of this mansion gave a banquet the table cloths, napkins, plates, cups, saucers, tumblers, cruet, and even the knives and forks, were likewise made of paper.

The industrial crisis which has affected all manufacturing countries more or less has caused considerable distress in Manchuria, who have taken a plow throughout the country, and the manufacturing districts are in a state of open insurrection. Russian newspapers are forbidden to publish accounts of these disturbances, but correspondents of papers abroad give some very disquieting news. The employers of labor, who are mostly Germans, have been compelled to apply for police protection, and in many instances the authorities have closed mills and factories and ordered the factory hands to return to their native
